FANNIE MAE FILES 2005 10-K WITH THE SECCompany Increases Quarterly Common Stock Dividend to $0.50 per Share

WASHINGTON, DC — Fannie Mae (FNM/NYSE) today filed its 2005 Annual Report on Form 10-K with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), reporting annual net income of $6.3 billion in 2005, up from $5.0 billion in 2004, and earnings per share (EPS) of $6.01 in 2005, up from $4.94 in 2004.

Fannie Mae also announced that the company's Board of Directors increased the regular quarterly common stock dividend to fifty cents per share ($0.50). The Board determined that the increased dividend would be effective beginning in the second quarter of 2007, and therefore declared a special common stock dividend of $0.10 per share, payable on May 25, 2007 to stockholders of record on May 18, 2007. This special dividend of $0.10, combined with the company's previously declared dividend of $0.40, will result in a total common stock dividend of $0.50 for the second quarter of 2007.

Fannie Mae said in today's filing that with completion of the 2005 Form 10-K, management is also assessing the impact on its original timeline for filing the 2006 Form 10-K. The company previously announced that it expects to file its 2006 Form 10-K by the end of 2007 but will review that timeline in light of today's filing. Fannie Mae also said that the company intends to continue to provide periodic updates regarding progress toward timely financial reporting.

"Today's filing of our 2005 10-K continues our steady march toward providing the market with timely quarterly financials," said President and Chief Executive Officer Daniel H. Mudd. "This is an important milestone, and we're pleased to be able to take another step by increasing our dividend."

Fannie Mae 2005 10-K Filing
Page Two

“We’re very pleased to file these 2005 results,” said Robert T. Blakely, Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer, who led last year’s restatement effort after joining the company in January 2006. “Work is already underway on the 2006 financials, and we’re building momentum towards catching up and becoming current.”

2005 10-K Filing — Overview and Highlights

“Our results for 2005 show we had a good year for our business in a challenging market environment,” Mudd said. “As we began working through our restatement and remediation, we saw growth in our book of business, solid performance in our guaranty businesses, growth in core capital and growth in the fair value of our net assets.”

Highlights of Fannie Mae’s 2005 results include:

Earnings: Fannie Mae’s net income and diluted earnings per share totaled $6.3 billion and $6.01, respectively, in 2005, compared with $5.0 billion and $4.94 in 2004, and $8.1 billion and $8.08 in 2003.

Stockholders’ Equity: Total stockholders’ equity increased to $39.3 billion as of December 31, 2005, from $38.9 billion as of December 31, 2004, and $32.3 billion as of December 31, 2003.

Regulatory Capital: On March 30, 2007, the Office of Federal Housing Enterprise Oversight (OFHEO) announced that Fannie Mae was classified as adequately capitalized as of December 31, 2006. Core capital of $42.3 billion exceeded the statutory minimum capital requirement by $13.0 billion and the OFHEO-directed 30 percent additional minimum capital requirement by $4.2 billion. Total capital of $43.0 billion exceeded the statutory risk-based capital requirement by $16.2 billion.

Fair Value of Net Assets (Non-GAAP): Fannie Mae’s estimated fair value of net assets (net of tax effect), a non-GAAP measure, increased to $42.2 billion as of December 31, 2005, compared with $40.1 billion as of year-end 2004, and $28.4 billion as of year-end 2003.

2005 Financial Results

2005 results include:

- Guaranty fee income increased approximately five percent to $3.8 billion in 2005 from $3.6 billion in 2004, primarily due to an increase in average outstanding Fannie Mae MBS and other guaranties. The company's average effective guaranty fee rate, which includes the effect of buy-up impairments, remained essentially unchanged at 21 basis points in 2005, 2004 and 2003.
- Net interest income dropped 36 percent year-over-year, to $11.5 billion in 2005 from $18.1 billion in 2004, driven by a ten percent decrease in Fannie Mae's average interest-earning assets and a 30 percent (55 basis point) decline in the company's net interest yield to 1.31 percent.
- Net derivatives fair value losses totaled $4.2 billion for 2005, down from $12.3 billion for 2004. A significant portion of the company's derivatives are pay-fixed swaps, resulting in increases in fair value and decreases in swap contractual interest expense as interest rates increased.
- Fee and other income totaled $1.5 billion in 2005, up significantly from $404 million in 2004. The increase was primarily due to exchange gains recorded in 2005 on Fannie Mae's foreign-denominated debt that stemmed from the strengthening of the U.S. dollar relative to the Japanese yen, which were offset by corresponding net losses on foreign currency swaps that are included in net derivatives fair value losses (discussed above).
- Provision for credit losses increased to $441 million in 2005, from $352 million in 2004, largely due to a provision for losses of $106 million in 2005 for single-family and multifamily properties affected by Hurricane Katrina (substantially lower than our original estimated range for after tax losses associated with Hurricane Katrina of $250 to $550 million).

- Administrative expenses totaled $2.1 billion in 2005, up $459 million, or 28 percent over $1.7 billion in 2004. The increase primarily related to costs associated with the company's restatement and related regulatory examinations, investigations and litigation defense, which totaled approximately $570 million in 2005.
- Investment losses, net increased to $1.3 billion in 2005 from a loss of $362 million in 2004. The increase was due primarily to impairments on mortgage related securities of $1.2 billion in 2005, up from $285 million in 2004. This increase was due to changes in interest rates — not credit quality — with increasing rates driving the fair value of certain securities below our cost basis.
- Other expenses totaled $251 million in 2005, down from $607 million in 2004. The decrease was primarily due to the recognition in 2004 of a $400 million civil penalty that the company paid in 2006 pursuant to settlements with the SEC and OFHEO.

Going forward, Fannie Mae expects high levels of period to period volatility in financial results as changes in market conditions cause periodic fluctuations in the estimated fair value of derivative instruments used by the company. Fannie Mae uses derivatives as economic hedges to help manage interest rate risk and achieve a targeted interest rate risk profile. The estimated fair value of the company's derivatives may fluctuate substantially from period to period because of changes in interest rates, expected interest rate volatility and derivative activity.

Fannie Mae said in today's filing that the company expects net income to decline in 2006, primarily due to further reductions in net interest income and net interest yield in 2006, and the decline in the spread between the average yield on assets and on borrowing costs (which the company began experiencing at the end of 2004). Administrative expenses also significantly increased in 2006, to an estimated $3.1 billion, largely due to costs associated with the restatement process and related regulatory examinations, investigations and litigation defense, the preparation of consolidated financial statements, control remediation activities and increased personnel to support these efforts. Fannie Mae also expects, however, continued strength in guaranty fee income, moderate increases in our provision for credit losses and somewhat lower derivative fair value losses as interest rates have generally trended up since the end of 2005 and remain at overall higher levels.

The company does not expect to be able to further quantify its operating results and financial condition until it completes the preparation of consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2006. However, the company meets regularly with OFHEO to discuss its current capital position.

Results of 2005 Business Segment Operations

Fannie Mae's business is organized into three complementary business segments:

- The Single-Family Credit Guaranty business works with lender customers to securitize single-family mortgage loans into Fannie Mae MBS and to facilitate the purchase of single-family mortgage loans for our portfolio.
- The Housing and Community Development business helps to expand the supply of affordable and market-rate rental housing in the United States by working with lender customers to securitize multifamily mortgage loans into Fannie Mae MBS, facilitate the purchase of multifamily mortgage loans for the company's mortgage portfolio, and also by making investments in rental and for-sale housing projects, including investments in rental housing projects that qualify for federal low-income housing tax credits.
- The Capital Markets group manages the company's investment activity in mortgage loans and mortgage-related securities, and has responsibility for managing the company's assets and its liabilities and the company's liquidity and capital positions.

The following table shows the company's results for 2005, 2004 and 2003 by each business segment, as provided in the 2005 Form 10-K:

(1) Includes interest income, guaranty fee income, and fee and other income.

The following provides further explanation of the business segment results:

- The Single-Family Credit Guaranty business generated net income of $2.9 billion in 2005 and $2.5 billion in 2004. Net income for the single-family business segment increased by $375 million, or 15 percent in 2005 from 2004, primarily due to higher interest income and guaranty fee income, offset by an increase in our provision for credit losses and administrative expenses. Interest income earned on cash flows from the date of the remittance by servicers to us until the date of distribution by us to MBS certificate holders increased by $282 million as a result of higher short-term interest rates throughout 2005.

Guaranty fee income for 2005 increased slightly from 2004 as the average single-family credit book of business increased three percent. The average effective guaranty fee rate remained essentially unchanged from year to year.

The provision for credit losses increased by 46 percent to $454 million in 2005 due to the provision for losses from the Gulf Coast hurricanes and the adoption of a new accounting standard.

- The Housing and Community Development business generated net income of $462 million in 2005 and $337 million in 2004. Net income for the HCD business segment increased by $125 million, or 37 percent in 2005 from 2004 as a result of increased tax benefits from tax-advantaged investments and higher fee and other income. Low Income Housing Tax Credit (LIHTC) investments totaled $7.7 billion in 2005, compared to $6.8 billion in 2004, and represented the largest proportion of HCD equity investment activity in 2005. Losses from partnership investments increased by $147 million as HCD increased its investment activity; however, these losses were more than offset by increased LIHTC tax benefits that resulted in a reduction in Fannie Mae's tax rate by approximately thirteen percent from the statutory tax rate in 2005.
- The Capital Markets group generated net income of $3.0 billion in 2005 and $2.1 billion in 2004. Net income for the Capital Markets group increased by $880 million, or 42 percent in 2005 from 2004, as a reduction in net interest income and an increase in investment losses were more than offset by lower derivatives fair value losses. Net interest income decreased $6.9 billion, or 39 percent in 2005 from 2004 largely due to a ten percent decline in the company's average portfolio balance.

Fair Value Balance Sheet (Non-GAAP)

GAAP requires disclosure of the fair value of our financial assets and liabilities. Fair value is the amount at which an asset or liability could be sold or exchanged between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale. In addition to the fair value of the company's financial assets, management looks at the estimated non-GAAP supplemental fair value of the company's other assets and liabilities. A reconciliation of the company's fair value of net assets (non-GAAP) to stockholders' equity (GAAP) is presented in Annex 1 to this press release.

"As we've said before, we believe fair value measures are a useful tool in assessing our business economics and risks," said Blakely, "We use fair value measures to make investment decisions and to measure, monitor and manage our interest rate risk and market risk, and our non-GAAP fair value balance sheets are an important component in assessing the sensitivity of our net asset fair value. As a result, we intend to provide a non-GAAP fair value balance sheet on a quarterly basis once we become current in our financial reporting."

Page Eleven

As of December 31, 2005, the (non-GAAP) estimated fair value of Fannie Mae's net assets (net of tax effect) was $42.2 billion after payments of $1.4 billion of cash dividends to holders of common and preferred stock, an increase of $2.1 billion, or five percent, over the 2004 net asset fair value of $40.1 billion. Fannie Mae's own activities — as well as market conditions — caused changes in the estimated fair value of net assets. The key drivers of the change include:

- an increase in the fair value of our net guaranty assets of approximately $1.5 billion; and
- earnings of the corporation.

Conclusion

"2005 was a good year for our business and an important year for Fannie Mae as we began the process of repairing our financials, remediating systems and controls, building a new management team and renewing our corporate culture," said CEO Mudd. "We also faced a shifting market in 2005, where we felt many of the mortgages being originated weren't appropriately priced for risk. We believe the tough business decisions we made at that time have helped put us in a stronger position today," he added.

Explanation and Reconciliation of Non-GAAP Measures to GAAP Measures

- (1) Each of the amounts listed as a “fair value adjustment” represents the difference between the carrying value reported in our GAAP consolidated balance sheets and our best judgment of the estimated fair value of the listed asset or liability.
- (2) The estimated fair value of each of these financial instruments has been computed in accordance with the GAAP fair value guidelines prescribed by SFAS No. 107, Disclosures about Fair Value of Financial Instruments (“SFAS 107”), as described in “Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements—Note 18, Fair Value of Financial Instruments.” In Note 18, we also discuss the methodologies and assumptions we use in estimating the fair value of our financial instruments.
- (3) Represents the estimated fair value produced by combining the estimated fair value of our guaranty assets as of December 31, 2005 and 2004, respectively, with the estimated fair value of buy-ups. In our GAAP consolidated balance sheets, we report our guaranty assets as a separate line item and include all buy-ups associated with our guaranty assets in “Other assets.” As a result, the GAAP carrying value of our guaranty assets reflects only those arrangements entered into subsequent to our adoption of FIN 45 on January 1, 2003. On a GAAP basis, our guaranty assets totaled $6.8 billion and $5.9 billion as of December 31, 2005 and 2004, respectively, and the associated buy-ups totaled $781 million and $692 million as of December 31, 2005 and 2004, respectively.
- (4) In addition to the $9.1 billion and $7.1 billion of assets included in “Other assets” in the GAAP consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2005 and 2004, respectively, the assets included in the estimated fair value of our non-GAAP “other assets” consist primarily of the assets presented on five line items in our GAAP consolidated balance sheets, consisting of advances to lenders, accrued interest receivable, partnership investments, acquired property, net, and deferred tax assets, which together totaled $26.4 billion and $24.9 billion as of December 31, 2005 and 2004, respectively, in both the GAAP consolidated balance sheets and the non-GAAP supplemental consolidated balance sheets. In addition, we deduct the carrying value of the buy-ups associated with our guaranty obligation from our GAAP other assets because we combine the guaranty asset with the associated buy-ups when we determine the fair value of the asset.
- (5) “Other assets” and “other liabilities” are reflected in each of the non-GAAP fair value balance sheets at their GAAP carrying values. With the exception of partnership investments and partnership liabilities, the GAAP carrying values of these other assets and other liabilities generally approximate fair value. The fair values of partnership investments and partnership liabilities are generally different from their GAAP carrying values, potentially materially. We have included partnership investments and partnership liabilities at their carrying value in each of the non-GAAP fair value balance sheets. We assume that other deferred assets and liabilities, consisting of prepaid expenses and deferred charges such as deferred debt issuance costs, have no fair value. We adjust the GAAP-basis deferred income taxes for purposes of each of our non-GAAP supplemental consolidated fair value balance sheets to include estimated income taxes on the difference between our non-GAAP supplemental consolidated fair value balance sheets net assets, including deferred taxes from the GAAP consolidated balance sheets, and our GAAP consolidated balance sheets stockholders’ equity. Because our adjusted deferred income taxes are a net asset in each year, the amounts are included in our non-GAAP fair value balance sheets as a component of other assets.
- (6) Non-GAAP total assets represent the sum of the estimated fair value of (i) all financial instruments carried at fair value in our GAAP balance sheets, including all financial instruments that are not carried at fair value in our GAAP balance sheets but that are reported at fair value in accordance with SFAS 107 in “Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements—Note 18, Fair Value of Financial Instruments,” (ii) non-GAAP other assets, which include all items listed in footnote 4 that are presented as separate line items in our GAAP consolidated balance sheets rather than being included in our GAAP other assets and (iii) the estimated fair value of credit enhancements, which are not included in “Other assets” in the consolidated balance sheets.
- (7) In addition to the $8.1 billion and $7.2 billion of liabilities included in “Other liabilities” in the GAAP consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2005 and 2004, respectively, the liabilities included in the estimated fair value of our non-GAAP “other liabilities” consist primarily of the liabilities presented on three line items on our GAAP consolidated balance sheets, consisting of accrued interest payable, reserve for guaranty losses and partnership liabilities, which together totaled $10.5 billion and $9.3 billion as of December 31, 2005 and 2004. As indicated above in footnote 5, these items are reported in our non-GAAP fair value balance sheets at their GAAP carrying values.
- (8) Non-GAAP total liabilities represent the sum of the estimated fair value of (i) all financial instruments that are carried at fair value in our GAAP balance sheets, including those financial instruments that are not carried at fair value in our GAAP balance sheets but that are reported at fair value in accordance with SFAS 107 in “Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements—Note 18, Fair Value of Financial Instruments,” and (ii) non-GAAP other liabilities, which include all items listed in footnote 7 that are presented as separate line items in our GAAP consolidated balance sheets rather than being included in our GAAP other liabilities.
- (9) Represents the estimated fair value of total assets less the estimated fair value of total liabilities, which reconciles to total stockholders’ equity (GAAP).

Guide to Fannie Mae's 2005 Annual Report on SEC Form 10-K

Fannie Mae provides this guide as an exhibit to its Form 10-K filing of May 2, 2007. It is neither comprehensive nor a substitute for the information in the full filing. This guide is being distributed only with either the Form 10-K or Fannie Mae's press release (including Annex 1), dated May 2, 2007, relating to the Form 10-K.

Overview and Highlights

Filing Timelines. The company previously announced that it expects to file its 2006 Form 10-K by the end of 2007. Management is assessing how the timing of the filing of this 2005 Form 10-K will impact the timing of the filing of the 2006 Form 10-K. We have made significant progress in our efforts to remediate operational weaknesses that have prevented us from reporting our financial results on a timely basis. Fannie Mae also said that the company intends to continue to provide periodic updates regarding progress toward timely financial reporting. (page 1)

2005 Earnings. Fannie Mae reported annual net income of $6.3 billion in 2005, up from $5.0 billion in 2004. Diluted earnings per share were $6.01 in 2005, up from $4.94 in 2004. (page 64)

Stockholders' Equity. Total stockholders' equity increased to $39.3 billion as of December 31, 2005 from $38.9 billion as of December 31, 2004. Our stockholders' equity increased by $400 million, or 1%, to $39.3 billion as of December 31, 2005. The increase in stockholders' equity was generated primarily from a $4.8 billion increase in retained earnings in 2005, offset by the reversal of unrealized gains on available for sale securities. (pages 64 and 178)

Regulatory Capital. On March 30, 2007, OFHEO announced that we were classified as adequately capitalized as of December 31, 2006. Our core capital of $42.3 billion exceeded our statutory minimum capital requirement by $13.0 billion and our OFHEO-directed minimum capital requirement by $4.2 billion. Our total capital of $43.0 billion exceeded our statutory risk-based capital requirement by $16.2 billion. (page 159)

Fair Value of Net Assets. The estimated fair value of Fannie Mae's net assets (net of tax effect), a non-GAAP measure, increased to $42.2 billion as of December 31, 2005, compared with $40.1 billion as of year-end 2004. The increase in the 2005 fair value of net assets was impacted by payments of $1.4 billion of dividends to holders of our common and preferred stock, an increase in the value of our net guaranty assets by approximately $1.5 billion, and earnings produced by the company. (page 108)

We expect periodic fluctuations in the estimated fair value of our net assets due to our business activities, as well as due to changes in market conditions, including changes in interest rates, changes in relative spreads between our mortgage assets and debt, and changes in implied volatility.

Description of Business Segments. Fannie Mae is organized in three complementary business segments that contribute to providing liquidity to the mortgage market and increasing the availability and affordability of housing in the United States. (page 5)

- Single-Family Credit Guaranty works with our lender customers to securitize single-family mortgage loans into Fannie Mae MBS and to facilitate the purchase of single-family mortgage loans for our mortgage portfolio. Our Single-Family business has responsibility for managing credit risk exposure relating to the single-family Fannie Mae MBS held by third parties (such as lenders, depositories and global investors), as well as the single-family mortgage loans and single-family Fannie Mae MBS held in our mortgage portfolio. Revenues in the segment are derived primarily from the guaranty fees the segment receives as compensation for assuming the credit risk on the mortgage loans underlying single-family Fannie Mae MBS and on the single-family mortgage loans held in our portfolio.
- Housing and Community Development helps to expand the supply of affordable and market-rate rental housing in the United States by working with our lender customers to securitize multifamily mortgage loans into Fannie Mae MBS and to facilitate the purchase of multifamily mortgage loans for our mortgage portfolio. Our HCD business also helps to expand the supply of affordable housing by making investments in rental and for-sale housing projects, including investments in rental housing that qualify for federal low-income housing tax credits. Our HCD business has responsibility for managing our credit risk exposure relating to the multifamily Fannie Mae MBS held by third parties, as well as the multifamily mortgage loans and multifamily Fannie Mae MBS held in our mortgage portfolio. Revenues in the segment are derived from a variety of sources, including the guaranty fees the segment receives as compensation for assuming the credit risk on the mortgage loans underlying multifamily Fannie Mae MBS and on the multifamily mortgage loans held in our portfolio, transaction fees associated with the multifamily business and bond credit enhancement fees. In addition, HCD's investments in housing projects eligible for the low-income housing tax credit and other investment tax credits generate both tax credits and net operating losses that reduce our federal income tax liability.

- Capital Markets manages our investment activity in mortgage loans and mortgage-related securities, and has responsibility for managing our assets and liabilities and our liquidity and capital positions. Through the issuance of debt securities in the capital markets, our Capital Markets group attracts capital from investors globally to finance housing in the United States. In addition, our Capital Markets group increases the liquidity of the mortgage market by maintaining a constant, reliable presence as an active investor in mortgage assets. Our Capital Markets group has responsibility for managing our interest rate risk. Our Capital Markets group generates income primarily from the difference, or spread, between the yield on the mortgage assets we own and the cost of the debt we issue in the global capital markets to fund these assets.

Key 2005 Priorities. We entered 2005 facing some of the most significant challenges in our company's history, including serious deficiencies in our accounting, controls and financial reporting as identified in an interim report of the special examination undertaken by OFHEO. (page 63)

In addition to our primary business and mission objectives, in 2005 we focused on a number of key corporate priorities to address specific identified issues and to build a fundamentally stronger and sounder company going forward. These priorities included the following:

- Restoring Capital. Rebuilding our capital position, and achieving the 30% surplus over required minimum capital levels in accordance with our agreement with OFHEO, was our most immediate and important corporate objective in 2005. OFHEO determined that we achieved the 30% surplus requirement at September 30, 2005.
- Progress on the Restatement of our Financials. We devoted substantial resources in 2005 and 2006 toward our restatement effort. On December 6, 2006, we filed our 2004 10-K, including restated results for previous periods.
- Rebuilding Relationships. We have focused on reshaping the culture of Fannie Mae to fully reflect the levels of service, engagement, accountability and effective management that we believe should characterize a company serving such an important role in a large and vital market. This remains an ongoing priority of the company.

2006 Outlook. Fannie Mae said in today's filing that the company expects net income to decline in 2006, primarily due to further reductions in net interest income and net interest yield in 2006, and the decline in the spread between the average yield on assets and on borrowing costs (which the company began experiencing at the end of 2004). Administrative expenses also significantly increased in 2006, to an estimated $3.1 billion, largely due to costs associated with the restatement process and related regulatory examinations, investigations and litigation defense, the preparation of consolidated financial statements, control remediation activities and increased personnel to support these efforts. Fannie Mae also expects, however, continued strength in guaranty fee income, moderate increases in our provision for credit losses and somewhat lower derivative fair value losses as interest rates have generally trended up since the end of 2005 and remain at overall higher levels. (page 65)

Summary of Consolidated Results

2005 Financial Results. (page 75)

- Net income totaled $6.3 billion.
- Diluted earnings per share totaled $6.01.
- The three main drivers of earnings were net interest income of $11.5 billion, net derivative fair value losses of $4.2 billion and guaranty fee income of $3.8 billion.

2004 Financial Results. (page 75)

- Net income totaled $5.0 billion.
- Diluted earnings per share totaled $4.94.
- The three main drivers of earnings were net interest income of $18.1 billion, net derivative fair value losses of $12.3 billion and guaranty fee income of $3.6 billion.

2003 Financial Results. (page 75)

- Net income of $8.1 billion.
- Diluted earnings per share totaled $8.08.
- The three main drivers of earnings were net interest income of $19.5 billion, net derivative fair value losses of $6.3 billion and guaranty fee income of $3.3 billion.

Business Segment Financial Results

Summary of Segment Results. Our business segments generate revenues from three principal sources: net interest income, guaranty fee income, and fee and other income. Other significant factors affecting our net income include the timing and size of investment and debt repurchase gains and losses, equity investments, the provision for credit losses, and administrative expenses. (page 93)

- Single-Family Credit Guaranty business generated net income of $2.9 billion, $2.5 billion and $2.5 billion on revenue of $5.8 billion, $5.2 billion and $5.0 billion in 2005, 2004 and 2003, respectively.
- Housing and Community Development business generated net income of $462 million, $337 million and $286 million on revenue of $743 million, $538 million and $398 million in 2005, 2004 and 2003, respectively.
- Capital Markets business generated net income of $3.0 billion, $2.1 billion and $5.3 billion on revenue of $43.6 billion, $46.1 billion and $47.3 billion in 2005, 2004 and 2003, respectively.

Executive Summary. (page 62)

Company Risks. This section identifies specific risks that should be considered carefully in evaluating our business. (page 36)

Legal Proceedings. (page 48)

Risk Management. Effective management of risks is an integral part of our business and critical to our safety and soundness. In the 2005 10-K, we provide an overview of our corporate risk governance structure and risk management processes, which are intended to identify, measure, monitor and control the principal risks we assume in conducting our business activities in accordance with defined policies and procedures. (page 109)

Our businesses expose us to the following four major categories of risk:

- Credit Risk. We assess, price and assume mortgage credit risk as a basic component of our business. We assume institutional counterparty credit risk in a variety of our business transactions, including transactions designed to mitigate mortgage credit risk and interest rate risk. (page 112)
- Interest Rate and Market Risks. Our most significant market risks are interest rate risk and spread risk, which arise primarily from the prepayment uncertainty associated with investing in mortgage-related assets with prepayment options and from the changing supply and demand for mortgage assets. (page 138)
- Operational Risk. Operational risk can manifest itself in many ways, including accounting or operational errors, business disruptions, fraud, technological failures and other operational challenges resulting from failed or inadequate internal controls. These events may potentially result in financial losses and other damage to our business, including reputational harm. (page 146)
- Liquidity Risk. We actively manage our liquidity and capital position with the objective of preserving stable, reliable and cost-effective sources of cash to meet all of our current and future operating financial commitments and regulatory capital requirements. We obtain the funds we need to operate our business primarily from the proceeds we receive from the issuance of debt. (page 148)

Capital Management. Our objective in managing capital is to maximize long-term stockholder value through the pursuit of business opportunities that provide attractive returns while maintaining capital at levels sufficient to ensure compliance with both regulatory and internal capital requirements. (page 156)

We are subject to capital adequacy requirements established by the 1992 Act. The statutory capital framework incorporates two different quantitative assessments of capital—both a minimum capital requirement and a risk-based capital requirement. Pursuant to the 1992 Act, we are required to maintain sufficient capital to meet both of these requirements in order to be classified as “adequately capitalized.” In addition, pursuant to our May 2006 consent order with OFHEO, we are currently required to maintain a 30% capital surplus over our statutory minimum capital requirement, which is referred to as the OFHEO-directed minimum capital requirement. We are subject to continuous examination by OFHEO to ensure that we meet these capital adequacy requirements on an ongoing basis.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements. We enter into certain business arrangements to facilitate our statutory purpose of providing liquidity to the secondary mortgage market and to reduce our exposure to interest rate fluctuations. Some of these arrangements are not recorded in the consolidated balance sheets or may be recorded in amounts different from the full contract or notional amount of the transaction, depending on the nature or structure of, and accounting required to be applied to, the arrangement. (page 163)

The most significant off-balance sheet arrangements that we engage in result from the mortgage loan securitization and resecuritization transactions that we routinely enter into as part of the normal course of our business operations. Our Single-Family Credit Guaranty business generates most of its revenues through the guaranty fees earned from these securitization transactions. In addition, our HCD business generates a significant amount of its revenues through the guaranty fees earned from these securitization transactions. We also enter into other guaranty transactions and hold LIHTC partnership interests that are considered off-balance sheet arrangements.

FANNIE MAE ANNOUNCES CFO TRANSITIONFormer AOL CFO Stephen M. Swad to Succeed Robert T. Blakely as CFO

WASHINGTON, DC — Fannie Mae (FNM/NYSE) today announced that, with the completion of the restatement of its 2002-2004 financial results, the filing of its 2005 results and progress toward filing its 2006 results this year, the Board of Directors has approved the selection of Stephen M. Swad to succeed Robert T. Blakely as Chief Financial Officer later this year. Mr. Blakely will continue serving as an Executive Vice President to the company through the end of 2007. Blakely will focus on completing Fannie Mae's last remaining historical filing — the 2006 10-K. Swad will drive the company's return to timely filing of its financial statements.

"Bob Blakely came to Fannie Mae with a daunting job — to serve as chief financial officer at a critical moment for our company, to lead our new financial organization, and to oversee a large, complex financial restatement. He did it all with great skill and confidence," said Daniel H. Mudd, President and Chief Executive Officer. "My hat is off to Bob, who has now orchestrated not one, but two significant restatement projects — and I now wish him as much peace and quiet as he can bear!"

"It has been challenging and rewarding to be given this opportunity at Fannie Mae by helping to complete the restatement and to work toward timely filings," Blakely said. "This has been a dream job for me, someone who likes large, complex tasks and helping people take on great challenges, particularly at organizations with a distinct public mission like Fannie Mae. The company has accomplished a great deal over the past several years, and as it moves forward on stronger financial footing, Fannie Mae's future will be well served by Steve Swad as its next chief financial officer."

Swad comes to Fannie Mae having served as executive vice president and chief financial officer for AOL. He also was executive vice president of finance and administration at Turner Entertainment Group, and vice president, financial planning and analysis, at Time Warner. Swad, a Certified Public Accountant and former partner of KPMG LLP, also served as Deputy Chief Accountant at the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). In addition, Swad was one of the founding members of the Financial Accounting Standards Board's Derivatives Implementation Group and assisted in developing the SEC rules on disclosures about financial instruments and derivatives.

"Steve Swad's strong financial background and breadth of experience will be a terrific asset for the company as we continue to build on the progress we've made in recent years," Mudd said. "We're excited he has joined the company and look forward to his leadership of our financial reporting and management team."

"Steve is highly skilled in finance with in-depth knowledge of a number of Fannie Mae's most critical accounting policies," said Dennis R. Beresford, former chairman of the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) who now chairs Fannie Mae's audit committee of the board of directors. "He has demonstrated leadership in multiple facets of finance, including his invaluable work at the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission while I was chairman of the FASB."

"I congratulate Bob Blakely and his team for their work on rebuilding Fannie Mae's financial statements, organization and systems," Swad said. "I look forward to working with Bob during this transition and helping to lead the company toward becoming a current financial filer. Fannie Mae plays a critical role in the housing finance system, and I am thrilled to be joining the management team."

Key Drivers:

- ▶ Higher debt costs due to flattening of the yield curve
- ▶ Decrease in portfolio size
- ▶ Shift in mix of portfolio assets – greater proportion of ARMs

Credit Losses/Book of Business⁽¹⁾

(1) Credit losses include foreclosed property expenses plus net charge-offs.

■ ■ ■ Excluding Impact of SOP 03-3

Under SOP 03-3, we are required to record as an increase in charge-offs the excess of the acquisition price over fair value of loans we purchased from Fannie Mae trusts due to credit deterioration since origination.

Balance as of December 31	$42,199	$40,094

Estimated Fair value of net assets, has grown by $2.1 billion.

Key Drivers:

- ▶ Payments of $1.4 billion of dividends to holders of common and preferred stock
- ▶ An increase in the fair value of our net guaranty assets of approximately $1.5 billion
- ▶ Wider spreads between mortgages and debt suppressed fair value
- ▶ Earnings of the corporation

The estimated fair value of our net assets (non-GAAP) represents the estimated fair value of total assets less the estimated fair value of total liabilities. We reconcile the estimated fair value of our net assets (non-GAAP) to total stockholders' equity (GAAP) in the Appendix.

APPENDIX

- ▶ The following sets forth a reconciliation of the estimated fair value of our net assets (non-GAAP) to total stockholders' equity (GAAP). A more detailed reconciliation is contained in Table 17 of the 2005 Form 10-K.

(Dollars in millions)	As of December 31,
